Paradiem Brand

This is what Paradiem means.

Paradiem para-de-em: beyond the day

RATIONALE

The name "Paradiem" is derived from both the root word diem, meaning "day," and with the prefix para, meaning "beyond." Together these create a new word, meaning "beyond the day." This new brand name symbolizes the very essence within the heart of Eric Dunavant and provides a unique and desired particularity. Paradiem instantly increases brand retention and recognition while holding onto the core values and defined purposes that are tightly woven into the E613 and Dunavant Wealth brand stories.

Inspired by the wisdom and guidance of 2 Samuel 7, the dialogue between the prophet Nathan, King David, and Yahweh set a near perfect representation of the heart of Paradiem. King David worried that the Lord he served resided in tents and tabernacles while he, an unfit king, had palaces, guards, and the very finest money could buy. It was Nathan who intermediated on behalf of David to the Lord and responded with profound insight directly from God Himself, who reminded David to worry less about the here and now or the today and to focus on the Kingdom of tomorrow or the legacy of what God's doing beyond the immediate. Nathan's response humbled David, changed his thinking, and reminded him of how blessed he was to be part of God's master plan.

These are wise words and an indefinite challenge to remind us all to live in the state of paradiem.

A visual identity, built on rationale.

THE MARK

To fully engage, leverage, and empower the Paradiem brand, the organization needs a visual identity and support system as strong in rationale as the name itself. All great brands tell stories through their visual identities and Paradiem is no exception. The Paradiem brand visually accounts for the rationale built into the name and in addition ties in fundamental elements from E613 and DWS.

The typeset wordmark is a modified/custom variation of the Bembo font family. Known as an "old-style" serif typeface steeped in the roman style of designed cuts, this modified version offers a unique juxtaposition between the representation of trust and steadfastness and that of a bold, edgy personality.

2 Samuel 7 was crucial to designing the cuts and rhythm of the wordmark. Each cross-cut and bar are meticulously set at 16 degrees, uniquely representing the story contained in the seventh chapter of the ninth book of the Bible. Seven plus nine equals 16. Built into the name is a continuous visual reminder to live "beyond the day."

■ Do

- + Set slide titles in Georgia Regular at 28–40pt with italic on the most important phrase.
- + Use Calibri Light for body copy at 12–14pt.
- + Use the letterspaced uppercase label (Calibri Bold +0.36em) on every header and footer.
- + Reserve Gold for italic emphasis, rule lines, and one accent per slide.
- + Reserve Green & Red for numerical status indicators only — never decorative.

■ Don't

- ✗ Don't substitute Times New Roman for Georgia — it reads stiff and dated.
- ✗ Don't use Calibri Bold for paragraph copy — keep body at Light or Regular.
- ✗ Don't use the phrase "Generations, Not Quarters" in client material — it is for internal & web use only.
- ✗ Don't use bright stoplight red or green — only the editorial Oxblood and Forest specified.
- ✗ Don't use drop shadows, gradients, or rounded corners. Every Paradiem layout is flat and square-edged.
